About the Author

Dr. Kyle Kingsley began working informally as a medical scribe 20 years ago while shadowing local physicians. Over the last 20 years, from his medical training through his work as an emergency physician, he has seen the medical scribe industry burgeon with the advent of electronic medical records. Since founding Clinical Scribes LLC in 2006, he has sought to relieve the increasingly heavy documentation burden that weighs on physicians. Clinical Scribes' sibling Medical Scribe Training Systems LLC has become the national leader in medical scribe training, providing training courses and materials to systems, groups and scribe companies throughout the nation.
